

17 Seniors Included in Leader List

Seventeen St. Joe seniors have been selected by a Student Council committee for inclusion in "American College Student Leaders," a biographical index of outstanding college men and women throughout the country. The selections will be published in the 1953 edition of the book.

The publication, in its original letter to Council president Hugh McAvoy, suggested that seniors be given preference; thus the committee agreed to choose only seniors for the positions.

The 17 chosen included the following club presidents: George Brown, Lake County; Bill Gaus-selin, Chicago; Don Gorman, Monogram; George Grecu, Commerce; George Herr, Geology; Fred Hollinden, Albertus Magnus; Joe Konkell, Columbian Players; Don Nowicki, Sanguinist; Bob O'Connor, History; Tom VanAck-er, Glee Club; and Gregory Yuen, Biology.

In addition to these club presi-dents, nominations included: Don Netols, senior delegate, NFCCS; George Riggs, treasurer, Student Council; John Pastrick, vice-presi-dent, Student Council; Jack Udel-hofen, Science Commission chair-man, NFCCS; Miro Pregelj, regional president, NFCCS; and Tom Paonessa, outstanding foot-ball quarterback.

Registration Reaches 451 for New Semester

By ROGER UECKER

Registration for the second semester of the school year Feb. 3, brought a total of 451 students under enrollment. This represents virtually the same number as was registered in the second semester of last year. No official breakdown into classes is available yet, though registrar Mr. James Bogan expects to have them within a few weeks.

No major scholastic changes are expected during the com-ing semester. Three new cours-es—Credits and Collections; Statics; and Administration of High School Athletics—made their initial bow with the be-ginning of classes Feb. 4.

The only faculty change is the appointment of the Rev. Ernest Lucas as an instructor in the De-partment of Education and as a director of the reading clinic. He had previously served as teacher at the Brunnerdale junior semin-ary. Two familiar priests are ab-sent from their special fields for the first time in many years, be-cause of illness. Father Frederick Fehrenbacher is not teaching his history classes this semester, while Father John Baechle is missing from his time-honored natural science course.

Journal Edited After Lapse Of Two Years

First and second-year men got their initial glimpse at a current edition of the campus literary magazine yesterday, when the first edition of Measure since the spring of 1951 was published.

Vol. 12, No. 1 represents the literary talents of St. Joe students during the first semester of the 1952-53 school year. Another edition is planned before the end of the current semester if enough material is gathered, and if it is of high enough quality, according to the moderator of the magazine, the Rev. Alvin Druhman.

The editor of the publication is Frank Molson.

Phase, the yearbook of the col-lege, is now in the final stages of compilation, with the pictures to be used being gathered before the Mar. 1 deadline. The copy for the annual is also in a state of pre-paration, with the deadline for it being Mar. 10.

Press Workshop Meets on Campus

St. Joseph's will be host to all eight schools in the Fort Wayne region of the NFCCS at the end of this month, as delegates will come here for the first regional press workshop ever held in this district.

The main speaker for the workshop will be Prof. Edward Fischer of Notre Dame, who will speak on "The New Jour-nalism," a discussion of the effects of television on journal-ism in the future. Mr. Fischer was formerly publicity director of St. Joseph's.

The workshop will begin Satur-day, Feb. 28, at approximately 1:30 p. m. The chairman of this first meeting and of the workshop in general will be regional press commission chairman Buel Adams, editor of STUFF. The invocation will be given by the Rev. James Hinton, regional moderator of the commission. A welcoming address will be given by the Very Rev. Raphael H. Gross, president of the college.

Four panel discussions are set for the two-day affair, three of these coming on Saturday. At each of the discussions, there will be a student speaker from the re-gion and a student discussion lead-er. The panels will cover these topics: "How Wide Should Our Editorial Scope Be?" "How to Cover the Campus Completely?" "Do We Give the Advertiser His Money's Worth?" and "Must Every Editor Start from Scratch?"

The general theme of the work-shop will be "The Scope of the College Paper." At the closing session March 1 the decisions reached in each of the panels will be reviewed before the delegates.

Delegates are expected from Marian College, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, St. Francis, Nazareth College, Notre Dame, St. Mary's of Notre Dame, and St. Joe. Any St. Joe man is welcome to attend the workshop or any of its panels. Fuller details may be had by con-tacting Buel Adams.

BULLETIN

A lay-in shot by Tim O'Brien with 10 seconds left gave the Pumas an 85-84 decision over Evansville Monday night in the fieldhouse. Bill Elbert was high for St. Joe with 21, Don Merki had 19. Jack Dwyer's 18 pushed his four-year total to 992.

TOURNAMENT PLAY

The tenseness of tournament play apparently has little effect on these intrepid pinochle aces as they battle it out in the rec hall competition.

Bogan Resigns

Mr. James R. Bogan, registrar of the college, has resigned the post, he has held since 1950, ef-fective the end of the present academic year.

He will be succeeded by the Rev. Charles J. Robbins, present director of the Student Welfare Bureau and assistant professor of classical languages.

The resignation was announced at a faculty meeting last Wednes-day. Mr. Bogan at present is un-certain of his future career, but remarks that indications tend to a position in the business field, possibly in accounting.

Mr. Bogan is a 1943 graduate of St. Joseph's. While a student here, he majored in chemistry. After graduation he served three years in the Navy and, upon discharge, accepted the post as assistant registrar here. He succeeded the Rev. Cletus Kern as registrar in 1950. He is married and has three children, Timothy James, Patrick James, and Kevin James.

MR. JAMES BOGAN

Players Prepare Arena Productions

Two arena-style productions have been scheduled for early March by the Columbian Players in the rec hall.

These one-acts will be the first attempt to produce the "theater-in-the-round" type of play here at St. Joe. The CP's director, Mr. John Kirby, has had experience in acting and producing them; and he is eager to initiate St. Joe men into the field.

Because of the limited playing area, only 50 people will be able to see the plays at one time. The audience will be selected by in-itation after those who wish to see these have indicated a desire to do so. It is possible that the productions will be given more than one night.

The two tentatively chosen plays are "It Isn't Done" and "Red Carnations," the latter by Glenn Hughes, a pioneer in the arena theater.

April Examinations to Decide 35 Scholarships to St. Joe

Twenty-seven thousand and four hundred dollars worth of academic scholarships will be awarded 30 high school seniors this year by St. Joseph's College.

These include ten tuition schol-arships of $1440 each, five honor scholarships of $1000 each, five of $800 each, and ten award schol-arships of $400 each. In each case, the amount is a four-year total. These awards will be given on the basis of rank in a competitive ex-amination to be given at 17 des-ignated centers during April.

These centers and the dates of the examinations are:

April 11: Marmion Military Academy, Aurora, Ill.; Mt. Carmel High School, Chicago; Cathedral Boys' High School, Springfield, Ill.; Central Catholic High School, Detroit; and St. Joseph's College.

April 18: Fenwick High School Oak Park; Spalding Institute, Peoria, Ill.; Cathedral High School, Indianapolis; St. Rose High School, Lima, Ohio; and St. Joseph's College.

April 25: Leo High School, Chi-cago; Mater Dei High School, Evansville; Bishop Noll High School, Hammond; St. Mary High School, Akron, Ohio; St. Philip High School, Battle Creek, Mich.; and St. Joseph's College.

Also on the 18th, an examina-tion will be given at St. Joseph's High School, Decatur, Ind., to de-termine the winner of the K of C scholarship sponsored by the Knights of Columbus Council No. 864 in Decatur.

This scholarship is for one year and covers the complete tuition, $360. It is open to all high school senior boys in the parishes of St. Mary's, Decatur; St. Joseph's, Bluffton, Ind.; and St. Rose, Mon-roeville, Ind.

Five band scholarships will be given this year by the college Music Department, after auditions at four centers during April.

The scholarships are valued at $800 each, and any high school senior boy is eligible for the awards. Audition requirements in-clude the proper mailing of the application blank; the ability to play the scales most frequently used, tongued and slurred, and also the chromatic scales; the playing of a solo number from memory, a short finger study, and notes by sight; and the fulfillment of the college entrance require-ments.

The auditions will be given on three consecutive Saturdays in April at two places, one of which will be, in all instances, St. Joseph's. April 11, Fort Wayne Central Catholic High School will be the other center; April 18, it will be Cathedral-High School in Indianapolis; and April 25, Chi-cago's St. Leo High School will be the scene of auditions.

Schnieders Occupies Senior Presidency

Tom Schnieders, Fort Wayne senior, moved up into the top position of his class at the begin-ning of the semester, after former president Ken Zawodny, Toledo, was inducted into the armed forces. Schnieders had previously been vice-president of the class of '53.

Zawodny's other position as secretary of the intramural bowl-ing league was assumed by Ron Hospodka of Park Ridge, Ill.

THE BASIC SOLUTION

It has been the constant complaint of those in the know, and the constant gripe of these columns, that the average St. Joe man is too little interested in the betterment of his college. He refuses to join clubs, participate in activities, obey rules, or perform services of charity without proper remuneration.

Why is this? We think we have found the basic solution. It is selfishness.

Too many persons do not look beyond the "what's in it for me" stage when they are asked to undertake an operation, whether it be being asked to undertake an operation, whether it be being asked to join the Glee Club or to pick up a piece of paper. Too many look with askance and disapproval at any suggestion which they cannot deem helpful to themselves in some way.

They won't join clubs and organizations—"What good is it going to do me?" They won't obey rules—"I don't like them." They won't attend student programs and functions—"Not enough time; I'm going to the show." They would never think of assuming a position that requires a great deal of work, i.e., prom chairman, Student Council committee chairmen, NFCCS work... unless they would get paid for it.

These are the driftwood in the stream of life, who never buck the current of their desires, but are swept downstream with never so much as the least effort to combat what they regard as the natural flow of their wishes.

These are also the ones whose entire life is spent in following someone who dared buck the current, and who came out a wiser, better man for doing a little more than what he thought would be profitable for himself.

A little of the distasteful occurs in everyone's life. Certainly, we may put off its performance, and, in some cases, dodge it completely—but are we the better for so doing? Much of that which we regard as distasteful would prove to be not quite so bad as anticipated if it were tackled with vigor and the will to conquer. Such an attitude builds character; of such an attitude are all our great leaders.

Perhaps the campus, the community, the nation—even the whole world—would be better if the majority would stop following their whims and undertake unrewarding tasks purely for the experience or the desire to help their fellow men.

Look at yourself. Have you neglected to obey rules made for the betterment of all, because you did not feel like doing so? Have you refused to participate in activities or join campus clubs and organizations because there was nothing in it for you? Have you slacked in your school work because you think it is too hard?

Are you selfish, too?

From Cafeteria to Raleigh Hall Our Joe Puma Is on the Ball

Joe Puma pushed his dinner plate away with an air of contentment. The fabulous Collegeville Kitchen had come through like the big toe in your sock. Spanish spaghetti. Yesterday it was Hungarian goulash; the day before, Chinese omelet; it all depended on the cook's nationality.

Like the time that Latvian cook came in—Caribou cobbler they had, with frozen walrus on the side. It didn't taste so good and is soon developed that the only thing she could do with any great skill was to milk reindeer, so the college instituted a new course in Reindeer Milking (Social Science 34). This proved to be a huge success with the campus reindeer, who had been roaming for years with no one experienced around. They did have one fellow, but he was just a little squirt.

Well, anyway, Joe Puma liked the meal.

Suddenly (we don't know for sure if it was suddenly, but that is tradition in a Joe Puma story),

Joe saw an object hurtling through the air, aimed for his face. He ducked just in time and the chocolate cream pie whistled past his ear and draped itself gently on the face of his dinner partner, Hugu MacArroon, the all-American student council president.

Mr. MacArroon turned several livid shades, many of which had not yet been noted in the spectrum. He started to rise in order to give chase to the villain, but force of habit was strong, and so he forgot his purpose in rising and announced a mixer that Saturday in the rec hall, instead.

Joe Puma glanced over his shoulder at the culprit. Sure enough, it was the Michigan Moose, now chuckling over Mr. MacArroon's misfortune. This could end in trouble, so Joe decided to separate the pair and queried the Moose about the possibility of a fast snooker game in the rec hall, to which the Moose assented.

And so we find our two heroes

Fathers Contact Chicago Seniors

All Catholic high school seniors in the Chicago area will be contacted by the recruiting committee of the Chicago Fathers' Club within the near future, according to the club's moderator, the Rev. Richard P. Baird. The chairman of the committee is Mr. William J. Dormin, Sr.

In addition to these contacts, the school is providing information about St. Joe to the more-than-1000 seniors who have thus far requested it. During the past few weeks, over 50 of the prospective students, from 11 different cities, have visited the campus.

in their familiar domain, Raleigh Hall (the hall built from cigarette premiums). After their short snooker workout, they sojourned to their usual corner table, ordered two hot cups of coffee, and then Joe spoke.

"Moose," he said, "I know that you want to ask me about the accomplishments of the NFCCS."

"Why, that is perfectly amazing," said the Moose. "So I was, but how did you know?"

"Oh, I read the local paper, too, and realize that it is only a matter of time before the editor runs out of clever ways to put across the NFCCS to the students, so you and I had better get this series over, but fast."

"A capital idea (spelled IDEA)," replied the Moose, clapping his hands and feet together in three-quarter time. "Let us do it."

"OK. Ask me a question to get the thing started."

"Hmmm. Let's see. Well, how widely is the NFCCS known? Or is it just a small-time outfit?"

"No, seriously speaking, the NFCCS is big-time. In 1950, a delegation met with President Truman to discuss the problems and projects of the Catholic college students in America, and later was represented at the President's conference on youth. Then, too, the NF has seats delegated to them at the UN, in a section where similar groups are seated."

"Well, has the NFCCS ever influenced our social conditions?"

"Ah, I see you are following the script. Yes, it has—in fact, there were two things organized right here at St. Joe that were of national importance. One was the Radio Acceptance Poll, a survey of college students of the federation which rated the current popular radio programs as to their acceptability. It received national recognition by some of the leading journalists of the time. In fact, Jimmy Fidler wrote a personal letter to the chairman, commending him on the fine work of the poll, and remarking that it did have a very significant effect on the radio shows covered."

"Fibber McGee and Molly came out on top in that year's poll, 1947-48, and were invited to St.

REMEMBER CHESTER TOKARZ?

Chet is the guy who met an untimely death last spring in a boating accident out at the stone quarry. He was a freshman, at the time the only living child of immigrant parents who still speak only broken English. His folks never had the advantage of a college education, but worked hard so that one in the family could get an education. Well, as we know, Chester never made it. But there's a little more to the story. Chet was one of twin boys born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tokarz. His brother had died at the age of ten. Then, when Chester was killed, there were no living children—but there was hope. Mrs. Tokarz was rather old, but she was expecting another child, a child that would almost surely be her last. Several months ago, Mrs. Tokarz gave birth to a little girl. Not long ago, the new baby also died! . . . "The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh away!" cried Job in his great affliction. "Blessed be the name of the Lord." . . . Sometimes it isn't easy to say.

CONGRATULATIONS to Jack Dwyer on his new total-point scoring record. We hope to see him hit the 1000 mark before many more games go by!

GIRL TROUBLE isn't a problem restricted to gentlemen of the unmarried set! Mr. Kirby, director of the Columbian Players, is also looking for a young lady—for the sake of art, of course. Plans

Joseph's to receive honorary degrees from the school. This is a result of unified student activity. "What else?"

"Well, the National Press Commission, formerly located here, cooperated with the National Organization for Decent Literature in stamping out the filth that was overtaking the nation's newsstands. To some extent, this worked effectively, and there are still some such movements going on in various regions."

"So far you've talked mostly about national influences. How about the local federation?"

"Well, this has taken several phases. Some schools assist local parishes by sending Catechism instructors or CYO coaches and teachers. They organize Cane conferences on marriage, and disseminate useful information to the local parishioners. Say, do you remember that OSP Fund drive—you know, the bingo party?"

"I should; I won the door prize . . . Best-lookin' door you ever did see."

"That money which you contributed to the Overseas Service Program through such means as the bingo party will be used to (Turn to Page Four)"

for what he calls "laboratory theatre" include two "arena plays", which will be presented in the rec hall on as many evenings as are needed to accommodate necessarily limited audiences. Both plays use a park scene and both have predominantly male casts—but one requires a female role. . . . young lady of late high-school or early college age. So if you run into a five-foot-two—well, see Mr. Kirby.

THE COLLEGE GLEE CLUB must have really wowed 'em in Fond du Lac, Wis., where a recorded radio program was presented. Writes Miss Lois Copesky:

"In listening to your choral group(s), I see great promise . . . as I well know many other residents also do."

"Your selections were vari(ed) and the voices blended in tremendously well. Never have I heard such magnificent singing."

DUST IN THE CORNER: John Cheevers and Fritz Hirsch amply rewarded for their boundless loyalty to the Pumas. After hitchhiking to Dubuque, Iowa, in 12 hours, they met Messrs. Merki and Quinn (both Sr.) at the Loras game. The gentlemen must have liked their style, for they insisted that the boys make the rest of the trip in le grand maniere, eating and traveling with the team, expenses paid by the Chicagoans! . . . Bob Cleinmark, ex-'55, (he of the U. of Vienna), spending Christmas vacation skiing in the Swiss Alps . . . Bill Bassett, ex-'54, now studying at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, Ill., with a young classmate by the name of Dan Meany—brother of the Collegeville sociologist!

... Bernie Boff wishing he'd never seen Loras—but a stitch in time saves nine, they say! . . . Harold Vanden Bosche, Xavierite, home for the weekend—to help celebrate his parents' twenty-fifth wedding anniversary . . . Chuck Lenertz providing lower Noll with spine-tingling suspense before gaining a wet revenge over "Gizmo" Ryan for an earlier cafeteria crime . . . Father Maziarz, with indomitable spirit, carrying on business as usual in spite of a run-down battery in his noise-box . . . Mr. Fetter spending the spring-training period at Arizona State, after accepting a position there as head line coach . . . Bill Zimmer again forced to walk over from Drexel after John Thorpe's bicycle broke down . . . Boys of Lower West Seifert spend more evenings at home lately than is their custom—autocracy still prevails in Pupoville! . . . Ann Williams, La Grange Park, Ill., passing herself off at the St. Mary-of-the-Woods mixer as une femme francaise, to the delight and interest of countless local gullibles . . . Tom Schnieders in need of luminous paint. He had a cold one night, turned the lights off to go to bed, then reached on his desk for some mentholatum to rub on his chest, then opened the bottle, inserted two fingers, and withdrew them doused in blue ink! . . . Tim Stivers still "doing good deeds" at ten cents each in order to work off a debt incurred as a result of a novel trip from here to Louisville with a banjo, a college dean, and a car-ful of singing troubadours . . . A number of Phy Ed students seen rushing to their dictionaries to verify the pronunciation of such words as duodenum and epiglottis . . . Bob Cichy back for the second semester after leaving with absolute certainty that he couldn't return. A smashed car and migrating parents were his reasons, but the generosity of Papa Cichy won out over all difficulties . . . John Quinn now the possessor of a '41 Studebaker in place of the old familiar Ford . . . Pat Evard, ex-'54, and Charley George, '52 alum, both on campus recently during military leaves. Charley says his old roommate, Andy Davey is doing post-graduate work at Catholic U.

I'd better quit now, 'cause I haven't got a thing to say!

The Grapevine

By JOHN WOLFE

AT A RECENT MEETING of coaches and athletic directors of the Indiana Collegiate Conference, Paul (Tony) Hinkle, Butler's net coach, said that St. Joseph's Pumas are the toughest team that the Bulldogs have faced this year. Considering the fact that Butler had played six Big Ten schools before meeting the Pumas, this comes as quite a statement from a coach who has been around the hardwood a long time and should know what he is talking about.

THE FINE DEFENSE that St. Joe used in downing Indiana State certainly should stand as one of the high points of the season. The Pumas had to sacrifice some of their offensive punch in order to drop back against the Sycamores' fast break. Willie Kellogg shone exceptionally bright on defense during the entire game. And the way St. Joe held Jim Crockum to only one fielder for his evening's work as compared with his 11 at Terre-Haute was another fine bit of defensive strategy.

DON MERKI HAS a very good chance of breaking the one-season scoring record of 364 points held by Bernie Hoffman of Jasper, Ind. His shooting from the field leaves little to be desired as he is hitting at an almost .500 average and .647 from the charity stripe.

"THE OFFICIALS WERE JUST INCOMPETENT," are the words which come from coach Dick Scharf after his Pumas took a physical beating from the Loras Duhawks that rivaled the football massacre last fall. Every time things got rough under the boards or around the basket, the referees seemed to be lost. They were even reluctant to give St. Joe a time out when Bernie Boff received an elbow at mid-court that opened a gash over his eye. No foul was called. Jack Dwyer was pushed, shoved, and all but run over underneath the basket and by the time the refs got around to calling those fouls and Jack got to shoot a free shot or two, he needed to be helped off the floor. And Mr. Lutgen, who gave a football, arm-breaking block to Boyd Reutebuch in the first quarter. The Loras coach acted thing on Bill Gehring in the first quarter. The Loras coach acted surprised when cautioned about this, but told Lutgen not to try any more of his defensive "tactics."

THE EXTRAMURAL MEET is approaching and the cry for volleyball teams by intramural director James Beane is out. Only three teams have been submitted so far, and at least five more are needed to start the tournament which will decide St. Joe's representative at the mid-March meet. It appears that St. Joe will have a strong basketball representative, with a least two or three good teams still in the running. Ping-pong and bowling are the other activities that will be part of the show here on March 13 and 14. Mr. Beane has a soccer league in mind if enough interest is shown with prospective games with surrounding schools a possibility. There are certainly enough activities on the campus and a chance for more to come if the students participate in full; the first thing to do is to get those volleyball teams in.

IT WON'T BE TOO LONG now until the baseball season will be upon us and Mr. Beane will have his hurling corps on the move. On your mark—get set—run, run, run, run, etc.

Campus Hosts Team From Cathedral High

The varsity basketball team of Cathedral High School, Indianapolis, used the St. Joe campus as a base of operations last Friday when they stopped here to and from a game with Bishop Noll High School, Hammond.

The 18 varsity members were accompanied by their coach, Mr. Pete Winegard, and Brother Casper, athletic director of Cathedral. Their record prior to the Noll contest was 8-8.

A similar situation occurred last fall, when the football team of Evansville Reitz Memorial stopped off at St. Joe before journeying on to face the Noll gridders, whom they defeated.

Butler Blasts Puma Dreams

Scharfmen Upset State Sycamores Once Again, 57-53

After three straight losses on the road, St. Joe returned home to repeat last year's upset over the Indiana State Sycamores, 57-53. When the game was over the Puma record stood at ten wins and six losses. Captain Jack Dwyer had a more impressive record of his own, however. Jack dumped in a field goal in the third quarter to bring his four-year total at St. Joe's to 953 points, a new high, eclipsing Bernie Hoffman's 11-year-old record of 952. All told, Dwyer collected 13 points on four field goals and five free throws.

The Pumas jumped to an early 7-2 lead but were forced to settle for a 16-16 tie at the end of the first quarter. The scoring of Don Merki and Bill Elbert kept the Pumas going in the first half and they led midway, 30-28. By the time Dwyer brought the crowd to its feet with his record-breaker in the third quarter, St. Joe had extended its lead, 42-37. The Sycamores could gain only one more point before the third period buzzer.

The Puma defense effectively stopped three big guns in the State offense. Roger Adkins, MVP in the Indiana Collegiate Conference in 1951-52 was held to seven points by Willie Kellogg. Cliff Murray, one of the Sycamore's high scorers, played only a few minutes and failed to score. Jim Crockum, the towering forward who got 25 points against the Pumas in Terre Haute was held to one field goal and three free throws.

Merki was high man for the home five with 18 points; Dwyer had 13 and Elbert 11. Guard Dick Atha and Forward Basil Sfreddo of State each had 15 points.

Ambrose Scores Freely To Trip St. Joe, 94-72

St. Ambrose tallied heavily in every quarter to defeat the Pumas, 94-72, in a Sunday afternoon game Feb. 8 in Davenport.

Victimized earlier on the St. Joe court, the Bees raced to a 28-15 first period lead. They widened this to 51-36 at the half and, pulling out all the stops, blasted to 76-57 at the third intermission. They cooled off somewhat in the final canto, but the Pumas, still nursing assorted aches and bruises after the Loras "football" game the night before, could not overcome the torrent of points. The total represented the greatest

85-64 Home Win for Bulldogs Ends St. Joe ICC Title Hopes

The friendly confines of Butler's fieldhouse, where the Bulldogs know all the angles, enabled a championship-bound Butler team to trounce the Pumas, 85-64, Saturday.

Approximately 100 St. Joe fans cheered their favorites on in the contest in which Puma hopes faded even more at every quarter-mark. The period scores were 19-9, 43-30, and 65-46.

Pumas Play Rough Foe

By JOHN WOLFE

Tonight's game with Great Lakes promises to be one of the stiffest encounters the Pumas will have all year as they attempt to stop Carl McNulty and Co. Ball State's Cardinals then invade the St. Joe fieldhouse for a game on Feb. 21. Then come three road games—Lewis, Valparaiso and St. Norbert's. The Pumas finish at home against Valpo on March 3.

The Ball State affair will be the second meeting between the two schools this year, the Pumas having whipped the Cardinals 78-72 at Muncie. Don Merki garnered 21 points in that game to spear-head a determined second half drive.

Lewis was also an early season victim of the Pumas as they fell 74-66. Since that time, however, Lewis has come back to break their school scoring record a number of times. They also hold two victories over Loras. St. Joe hopes to keep in the Midlands running by annexing a victory at St. Norbert's on the last day of this month.

The two engagements against Valpo usually highlight a basketball season on the Puma campus, and this year will be no exception. The Crusaders bested St. Joe twice last year, and the Scharfmen will be out to turn the tables this year. In order to do this, the Pumas will have to stop Crusader center Don Bielke, who is among the leaders in the ICC scoring and rebounding.

number of points scored on St. Joe this year.

The Scharfmen came perilously close to ending the game with less than a full team. Only ten men had made the trip; five had fouled out already; and of the five remaining, Bernie Boff and Jack Dwyer had four fouls each. The three other stalwarts were Marv Hackman, Ed O'Rourke, and Tim O'Brien. Only one Ambrose player was lost via the personal route.

Center John Connody and Guard Bill Seekamp led the Bees with 24 points apiece. Bill Elbert with 16, and Don Merki and Chet Pilat with 14, led the Puma scoring. Tim O'Brien had 10.

The Scharfmen never led in the fray, although they tied the Bulldogs 2-2 early in the game on a lay-in by Chet Pilat. The contest opened very slowly, neither team scoring until almost three minutes were gone. After that, Harry Porter led the way for the Butler steamroller.

The biggest bright spot in Puma hopes occurred near the end of the second period when a sudden St. Joe flurry cut down the Butler lead from 20 to 13 points, Jack Dwyer connecting on a shot as the buzzer sounded. Dwyer raised his record-breaking four-year point total to 974 in this contest.

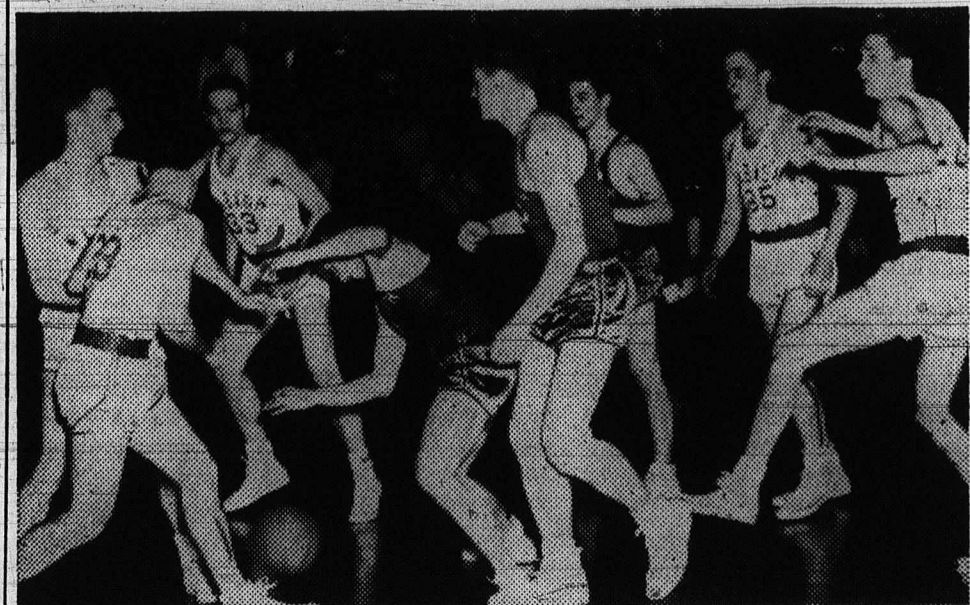

That third period onrush which enabled the Pumas to stun Butler in their first meeting here failed to materialize and St. Joe remained cold in the second half. Reserves played the last few minutes for both squads; every St. Joe varsity man making the trip scored except Marv Hackman.

Home court advantage showed up well. Butler tallied 42% of their field shots, St. Joe made 31%. On free throws, it was Butler 67%, St. Joe 47%.

Don Merki once again showed the way for St. Joe scorers with 16; Dwyer 15; Chet Pilat, eight; and Will Kellogg, seven. Keith Greve with 21 and Porter with 20 were high for the Bulldogs.

Tim O'Brien dives after a loose ball in the game at Wabash. Marv Hackman and Willie Kellogg give some moral support as the Cavemen quintet stands by to watch the maneuver.

Paul Rettig gains control of an intramural basketball from Gerry Murphy and Gene Ziemba behind him. Teammates George Kalafut and Bob Sack prepare to assume their attacking positions in action as the IM league nears a close.

Holzer Replaces Udelhofen as Science Head

Frank Holzer will replace Jack Udelhofen as regional Science Commission chairman of the NFCCS, the Rev. Albert Wuest, regional moderator, announced recently. Holzer is a sophomore at present and will succeed to a post held by Udelhofen all year. The latter took over the reins from the commission's first chairman, Bob Hummel.

Father Wuest, Udelhofen, Miro Pregelj, Don Netols, Ken Ryan, and Buel Adams were St. Joe's representatives at the year's third council meeting Feb. 8 at Aquinas College, Grand Rapids, Mich. Among the business brought up was the alteration of the regional constitution and the selection of a new moderator to replace the Rev. Seraph Zeltz of St. Francis College. Three prospects were mentioned, including Father Wuest, but no definite action was taken.

At the meeting it was announced that St. Joe had exceeded its $109 goal for the Overseas Service Program by some $20. The school received a good rating from Miro Pregelj, the regional president, for its commission work, although the lack of other commissions on campus was cited.

The fourth council meeting has been scheduled for St. Joe April 17. It will be followed by the regional congress here the 18th and 19th. The congress may be attended by any student in the region who is interested in the NFCCS. Don Netols, the local senior delegate, listed as his choice for a speaker Miss Betty Schneider, executive director of Friendship House in Chicago. The theme of the congress as proposed is "The Pontiffs Speak to the Student."

Clinic Director Attends Meet

Mr. Salvatore Pupo, St. Joseph's English instructor and director of the reading clinic, recently returned from the annual Institute on Reading held Feb. 2-6 at Temple University, Philadelphia. The theme of this year's Institute was "The Curriculum Approach to Instruction." During the discussions emphasis was placed on reading problems in classroom situations.

The present program being used here at St. Joseph's for reading instruction was evaluated by the Institute and was commended for its organization and its approach to the reading problem.

Mr. Pupo has recently announced the new schedule for the reading clinic. The clinic will be open Monday through Thursday from 9:00 to 12:00, and from 2:00 to 5:00.

The Rev. Ernest Lucas, a recent addition to St. Joseph's faculty, will assist Mr. Pupo in his work with the clinic.

Loras Wins Again, 86-80

The Pumas were unable to avenge an earlier defeat when they journeyed to Loras College on Feb. 7. Loras had beaten St. Joe at home early in the season by a slim one-point margin. They extended that margin by five points in the second contest to down the Pumas, 86-80.

Although the travelers collected 32 field goals to Loras' 29, they were licked by their own fouls. Statistics reveal that the Loras team went to the free throw line 47 times and gathered 28 points there. St. Joe had 30 chances and made good 16 of them.

The Pumas trailed at the end of the first quarter, 24-19. At the half the score stood 50-41 with Loras still on top. The scoring was even in the third quarter and St. Joe was still behind, 74-55.

Kowalsky and Teeling of Loras led the scoring with 22 and 21 points respectively. Don Merki was high for the Pumas with 20, Dwyer followed with 18. Chet Pilat got 11 points; Bill Gehring, got 7.

The Moose sat silent for a moment. Then he looked up, smiled, and remarked, "Y'know . . . I do too. I think you've sold me on the NFCCS."

☆ INTRAMURALS ☆

As of last Wednesday, with 15 games remaining in the three IM basketball leagues, two leagues still had first place ties to be settled. In the National League the Backboard Bandits and the Existors both were sporting four wins and one loss, with the Rockets in third place with a 3-2 record. The Western League was waiting for the Hussar Kids or the Basketeers to get knocked off—each had won six with no losses. Behind these two teams was the Hungry Five with 4 and 1.

The American League showed the Hotshots in the lead with a 6-1 performance, while the Mother's Mob trailed with five wins against a single loss. The third spot was still tied between the Cholies and 8 Shrimps and a Blimp, each with a 4-1 record.

After these disputes are settled, the three winners will enter into a play-off to determine the first-round winner. At the end of the second round the winner will be chosen from a double elimination tournament. Twelve teams, the top four in each league, will compete for the second round crown and the right to meet the first round winner for the IM championship. The champs will then represent St. Joe in the coming extramural meet.

The King Pins are proving to be what their name boasts in the second round of the bowling competition. They are tied for first with an 8-1 record.

The King Pins have turned in the high game, 853 pins; and he high series, 2462. Bob Michalski of the Pins had the best series in the entire league last week with 601 pins and the high game with 237 for new individual records.

The volleyball tournament is still waiting for teams. So far only three outfits have reported themselves to Mr. Beane. The IM director said that the tournament will be held as soon as enough teams are made up. The ping pong tournaments will get under way soon, he said.

The Intramurals' Basketeers recently defeated St. Joe's Jayvees, 58-56, in a practice game. Roy Meyer led the Basketeers through the hardfought contest with 18 points.

Eucharistic Fast Rules Explained By Father Martin for STUFF

By BUEL ADAMS

"Christus Dominus," the new instruction issued recently by the Sacred Congregation of the Holy See, has caused so much question over its interpretation as to what is allowed that we visited Father Henry Martin, Student Coordinator, for a little enlightenment on the subject.

Father Martin agreed to check the interpretations for us, and after doing so, was able to formulate this list of do's and don'ts:

1. Plain water no longer breaks the Eucharistic fast, no matter when it is taken or by whom.

2. Medicine may be taken by the sick without breaking the fast if they receive permission from a confessor either inside or out of the confessional, if the regular fast cannot be kept without real inconvenience, and if the medicine is a true medicine (non-alcoholic) prescribed by a physician or commonly accepted as such.

3. All the faithful may take liquids, except alcohol, up to one hour before receiving Communion if they cannot observe the strict fast because of grave inconvenience and if they have the permission of a confessor.

The grave inconvenience is verified only in cases of enervating labor before Communion, an unusually late hour of receiving (if that is the only opportunity), and a long journey exceeding 1 1/4 mile on foot or its equivalent in difficulty. Some examples of those burdened with enervating labor would be workers in shops, transportation, and public service; those who pass the night in watching, such as nurses and night watchmen; those for whom even the first Mass is relatively late; and mothers who have a large number of household chores to do before Mass.

4. Bishops can now permit evening Mass in their dioceses on Sundays, Holy Days, First Fridays, special solemnities, and one other day of the week, when required for the good of certain classes of people. The Eucharistic fast for these Masses is from solid food and alcohol for three hours; and from non-alcoholic liquids, except water, for one hour.

The faithful may freely receive Communion at the evening Mass

Commerce Club Sights Into Future for Plans Of Banquet and Trip

Members of the Commerce Club are extending their sights two and three months into the future as they plan for their annual banquet and another field trip.

Plans for these two events were among the chief items discussed at the meeting of the club Feb. 9. During this meeting, two films were shown—"What Makes Us Tick?" and "Money at Work"; both dealt with the operations of the New York Stock Exchange. The films were followed by a talk by Mr. James Bogan, college registrar, on "Some Tips on Personal Investment." Mr. Bogan led the subsequent discussion.

As a result of the banquet discussion, Bill Bugher, Robert L. O'Connor, Marty Knapp, and Bob Carney were chosen to serve on the banquet committee. A tentative date has been set for May 11.

The Ford Assembly Plant in Chicago and the Chicago Board of Trade are two possibilities named for the field trip now slated for April 22. Also being considered, however, is the International Harvester plant in Fort Wayne. The club plans to raise additional funds to aid in paying the costs of the trip by sponsoring a bingo party. Chairmen of this affair are Don Klingenberg, John Haffner, and Tom Schneiders.

The club's next meeting will be March 2.

as long as it is received only once a day.

The purpose of the new law is apparently to encourage the more frequent reception of Holy Communion by the faithful.

Cavemen's Splurge Top Pumas, 79-73

A 24-point splurge in the final quarter by the Wabash Cavemen gave them a 79-73 victory over the Pumas on the winners' home floor, Feb. 3. The game was close for three quarters, but the Cavemen almost turned the game into a rout in the last period, leading by 19 points at one time. Only when Coach Paul Armstrong withdrew his starting five did the Pumas, using a full-court press, cut the margin.

Three busloads of followers kept cheering throughout the first half as the Pumas held a 15-14 first quarter advantage and trailed only 34-32 at halftime. In the first half Don Merki scored five of his final total of eleven baskets to help keep the Pumas in the game.

Wabash widened its margin to 55-48 through the third period as Steve Chicki scored four baskets and Bob Tucker chipped in with three. Bill Elbert ripped the nets for six points to keep the Pumas within striking distance.

St. Joe couldn't do a thing at the start of the final ten minutes with Wabash men open under the basket for lay-ins time after time. Then Merki and Jack Dwyer went to work, but by that time it was too late.

Merki had 27 points for his evening's work, a high as far as St. Joe scoring goes this year. Dwyer was next with 15, followed by Tim O'Brien with 13. Wabash scoring was well divided with five starters getting at least 10 or more points. Chicki was high with 18.

Club Tells of Plans

"The House That Faith Built"—a film on the survival of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Co. during prohibition will be shown at the March 9 meeting of the History Club, Mr. Joseph Druse, club moderator, announced recently.

The Club's last film presentation, "The DuPont Story," was shown to a group of more than 50 people on Feb. 4.

Don Stazy obliges the cameraman with a smile, Bob Ward with a questioning stare, and Ken Ryan with the back of his neck as local transients board buses to journey to Crawfordsville for the Wabash fray. They came back loaded with high spirits.

SJC Handbook Changes Offered

The Disciplinary Committee of the Student Council met Feb. 5 and formulated a program of suggested changes in the student handbook, which they will present to the disciplinary board of the administration in the near future.

Especially stressed by the committee was the necessity of uniform rules for all halls except Drexel. They recommended the abolition of all point systems now being used in the halls and emphasized the need of the prefects' keeping the halls quiet during the study period.

Taking the points in the handbook one by one as they did, the committee recommended the following changes:

Bed-Time: That lights be left on during mid-semester week, final exam week, and the week before final exams, as long as quiet prevails. That it be not mandatory that a student retire at 11:30, at other times, though, the lights be out and the student be required to be in his room.

Study Hours: That the night study period be mandatory for freshmen. That sophomores having a 1.00 index or better be exempt. That those excused from study period may remain inside or outside their hall, but must maintain quiet when in the building. That the use of radios be prohibited during the study period.

Town Nights: Same as present, except that lights be left on until 12:00 on Saturday and Sunday nights for everyone.

Automobiles: That sophomores may use cars with the same rights as upperclassmen; none for freshmen. That the insurance provision in the handbook be more strictly enforced.

Electrical Appliances: That appliances other than those listed may be used with the express permission of the Dean of Men.

Rooms: That visitors be allowed in students' rooms from 10:00 a. m. until 6:00 p. m. on Sundays and at other times specified by the Dean of Men, until adequate provision for entertaining guests is made.

That student need not receive permission to visit another, except that he may not violate the study hour.

Firearms: That they may not be in the room of a student. That the

A fast shuffle is employed by Brother Phil as the noted lecturer and librarian (see below) demonstrates adroit ability at the new filing system.

Bro. Speaks On Library

The library's Brother Philip put on his speaking togs Feb. 5 and pinch-hitted for Father Charles Banet, who was sick at the time, at a meeting of the Rosary Society of St. Mary's Church, Kouts, Ind.

Brother Phil's topic, with which he was rather well-acquainted, was the "Origin, History, and Development of St. Joseph's Library." He placed special emphasis on the Catholic books and periodicals to be found there. The talk was followed by a question-and-answer session, after which refreshments were served.

The pastor of the parish is the Rev. Gilbert Wirtz, who attended St. Joe from 1926-32 and is a graduate of the college.

Dean of Men may hold them for off-campus permission.

Gambling: That only extremely seriously gambling render the student liable to suspension, through proper disciplinary action may be exercised by the Dean of Men in less serious cases.

Penalties: That penalties be defined specifically and adhered to. That drinking and gambling penalties not be as strict as they are at present. That uniform penalties be issued by hall prefects.

The members of the committee are Hugh McAvoy, Robert L. O'Connor, John Quinn, Vince Agnew, Jim McCarthy, Frank Klopp, Buel Adams, and Bill Hopkins.

Plans Revealed For Book Week

The college library will be the setting for a special celebration of Catholic Book Week from Feb. 22-28. The main feature of the occasion will be a series of lectures and discussions given in the Special Collections Reading Room of the library. The talks will be informal.

As now planned, Father Rufus Esser will give the opening talk Sunday evening on the theme and meaning of Catholic Book Week. The motto and theme of the Week is "The Truth Shall Make You Free." During the week Dan Deneau will offer a paper on Sigrid Undset, and Father Raphael H. Gross will speak on some aspects of modern Catholic literature.

The tables in the library will be used to display collections of the prominent Catholic books of different centuries. The library and the College Book Store display window will also feature exhibits pertinent to Catholic Book Week.

Father Charles Banet, librarian, has stressed that every student should take an active interest in Catholic literature, especially in the present day when so many secularistic works are being published which often lead astray the truth-seeking mind. The importance of modern Catholic publications, he remarked, cannot be over-emphasized. He invites each student to visit the library and to participate in the discussions during the week.

Name Fr. Kenkel To CEA Council

The Rev. Joseph B. Kenkel, Professor of Economics, has recently been named a member of the Executive Council of the Catholic Economic Association.

He is the second member of the faculty to be named to this council. The Rev. Cletus F. Dirksen, Associate Professor of Politics, was the first. Father Dirksen held the office of secretary-treasurer, which is now held by Sister Yolande of St. Teresa College, Winona, Minn.

The prime purpose of the association, Father Kenkel said, is to spread Catholic social teaching throughout the U. S.

CATHOLIC BOOK WEEK

THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE

JN. 8:32

FEBRUARY 22-28, 1953

Pastors Addressed By Father Baird

Opening the campaign for more and better publicity for the state's six Catholic institutions of higher learning, St. Joe's Father Richard P. Baird, chairman of the Joint Committee on Publicity, spoke at a meeting of the pastors of Fort Wayne in that city Feb. 3. Also present was the lay board of St. Francis College, Fort Wayne.

Besides St. Francis and St. Joseph's, the Indiana schools associated with the committee are Notre Dame, St. Mary's of Notre Dame, St. Mary-of-the-Woods, and Marian College.

Literature on the situation and advantages of each school has been put into a pamphlet, which will eventually, it is hoped, reach every Indiana Catholic family.

Married Grads Rank High In Recent U. S. Family Survey

Married St. Joe graduates of the class of 1942, with an average of 2.12 children apiece, rank a high seventh in that category in a listing of 1942 male graduates from 120 other United States colleges and universities.

This was revealed in a survey taken recently among 16,000 alumni by the Population Reference Bureau of Washington, D. C. (The Bureau is a non-profit educational organization founded in 1929 to study population problems.)

The Rev. Joseph F. Scheuer, '40, instructor in sociology, now on leave for graduate study at Fordham University, served as local correspondent for the Bureau and administered the poll of the class by mail.

Compare '42 with '27
The complete survey of the Bureau constituted a comparison of the number of children born to 1942 graduates with those born to graduates 15 years their senior, the class of 1927. St. Joseph's submitted no data for the 1927 tabulation since at that time the college admitted only priesthood students.

Other figures show that of the 85 1942 St. Joe graduates, 54 men (64%) responded to the survey. Of the 54 responded, 50

St. Xavier Women Lead
Alumnae from St. Xavier College, Chicago, capture the lead among 131 classes of women graduates of the class of 1942 with 2.12 children apiece, or 3.45 children for each parent. Next in line are women from Kansas Wesleyan, Pacific University, and St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, the last named with 1.81 children for each reporting graduate.

In the men's survey, top honors for the most familyful class of 1942 go to Brigham Young University, whose 59 reporting alumni tell of 2.58 children apiece, or 2.87 children for each parent. Other schools whose 1942 classes rank above St. Joe's are Calvin, Mich., Goshen, Ind., St. Joseph's, Penna., Fort Hays, Kansas State, and Loyola University of the South.

Figures on marriage show no decline, according to Bureau findings: 11% of the men graduating in 1942 have not married (7% for

Following is a comparison of the reproductive accomplishments of St. Joseph's 1942 graduates with those of the 1942 male graduates from the 120 other colleges participating in the survey. Included also are the national figures for men of the class of 1927 (for which year St. Joseph's did not submit data) and for women of both the class of 1927 and of 1942. Note that the 1942 graduates already closely approach, after 10 years, the marks set by their elders in 25 years.

Further Bureau averages show 1.96 children for each of the 54 reporting St. Joe graduates. Excluding the unmarried grads from the computation, the average increases to 2.12 children for each married graduate, or 2.47 children for each married grad who is a parent. In the last category (2.47), St. Joe's '42 alumni rank fifth in the 121-school ranking.

Regarding the 1942 figures, the Bureau comments: "This group may be the first in the recent history of American colleges to produce enough children to replace themselves."

Since the Bureau estimates that 2.1 children per graduate are needed for replacement, "These averages would indicate that the cream is being skimmed from the milk. For, if these figures are typical, the 103,000 who graduated from college in 1927 in the United States will bequeath to the next

National Rate Also Rises
As in the Population Reference Bureau's findings for college graduates, the U. S. Census Bureau, in a 1947 sampling, found a rise in the nation's birth rate over the past 15 years. This rise was greater among the high school and college educated groups than among the less educated, said the Census Bureau.

Of its own results the Population Reference Bureau commented: "Unfortunately, we found that our nation is faced with the problem of shrinking families among the people of accomplishment, the best educated parts of the population have fewer children, the task of raising families being left more to the less-educated citizens. The future generation is (Turn to Page Six)

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

What do you think of the Student Council's Disciplinary Committee's suggestions for amended rules? Admittedly, this is a very controversial subject, and so STUFF is seeking student opinion as a guide for further committee efforts in this matter. Taking into consideration, then, both your desires and the betterment of the school, what is your opinion on the decisions of the committee?

New Dean's List Names Scholars

Twenty-nine students are mentioned on the recently-issued Dean's List of 2.50 students, with six holding a perfect 3.00 index. The list covers the period Feb. 5-April 2, 1953, and exempts the 29 from the cut system during that time, unless the instructor of a course rules otherwise.

Sophomores are foremost on the list, 11 of their members making the roll. The other 18 include seven seniors, six freshmen, and five juniors.

The new 3.00 students are Buel T. Adams, Mansfield, Ohio; R. Joseph Barnett, Peru, Ind.; Edmund F. Byrne, Peoria, Ill.; Daniel P. Deneau, Kankakee, Ill.; Marvin L. Hackman, Jasper, Ind.; and Joseph A. Peters, Mansfield, Ohio.

Others making the list are: A. Vincent Agnew, Vermillion, Ohio; Richard T. Bender, Fort Wayne; Gerard W. Caron, Oak Park; Jerold L. Couture, Decatur, Ill.; Robert K. Deán, Delphos, Ohio; Philip F. Gilbert, Battle Creek, Mich.; and Robert M. Jones, Centerville, Iowa.

Also, Joseph D. Konkel, Milwaukee; Richard F. Kotheimer, Youngstown, Ohio; Alexander A. Lazur, Whiting; John K. Miller, Lackawanna, N. Y.; James J. Murphy, Springfield, Ill.; Steve M. Oleskiewicz, Chicago; Stephen R. Patun, Chicago; and Joseph D. Perisich, Joliet.

Also, Vladimir N. Pregelj, Ljubljana, Yugoslavia; Edward J. Riley, Oak Park; Eugene A. Rueve, Toledo; George J. Smolar, Whiting; Roger L. Uecker, Fort Wayne; Gerald J. Walke, Grand Rapids, Mich.; James J. Wright, Fowler, Ind.; and William J. Zimmer, Covington, Ky.

St. Joe Glee Club Presents Program At SCC Meeting

The St. Joseph's College Glee Club presented a 25-minute entertainment program Feb. 9 at the district meeting of the Jasper County Soil Conservation Commission. At this program, the Glee Club initiated the newest selection in its repertory—"With a Song in My Heart." Other selections were: "The Rose of Tralee," "Carino Mio," and "Wanderin'." Commenting on such local programs that the Glee Club has presented recently, Father Lawrence Heiman, the Club's moderator and director, affirmed their usefulness not only in initiating new selections, but also in contributing to the assurance and experience of the singers.

Plans are now under way for the Glee Club to make three appearances in the near future at high schools in the Whiting area.

A half-hour recorded program entitled "St. Joseph's Salute to Fond du Lac" was presented by the Glee Club Feb. 2 on station KFIZ of Fond du Lac, Wis. Comments by officials of that station indicate that it was well received by the public.

Word has been received that Ed Kafka, who was a member of last year's quartet, and who was then elected as this year's president of the Glee Club, will return to St. Joe and the Glee Club next fall. Ed is now attending the University of Vienna, Austria.

Lenten Season Halts Socials

Lent brings a halt to the social activities at St. Joseph's today. The seven-week period ends a string of mixers and student trips which had been occurring quite often within the past few weeks.

The last mixer of the season occurred Sunday night at Gary when nurses from Mercy hosted St. Joe men. On Feb. 7, girls from St. Mary-of-the-Woods were campus guests for a mixer; the college swing band handled the musical chores.

The St. Joe-Butler game Saturday night had as viewers some 100 Puma rooters who invaded Indianapolis over Saturday and Sunday. This followed a similar Student Council-sponsored trip to Crawfordsville Feb. 3 for the Wabash game.

Children

coming chiefly from those who have neither the heredity nor the environment that could be given by college graduates to their children."

Concluding, the Bureau said: "On the hopeful side is the steady increase among the 10-year classes of 1936 to 1942. In addition, there is more and more evidence that the problem of a low birth rate among educated people is being recognized."

This year's was the seventh annual study of this nature among the 10-year and the 25-year graduating classes.

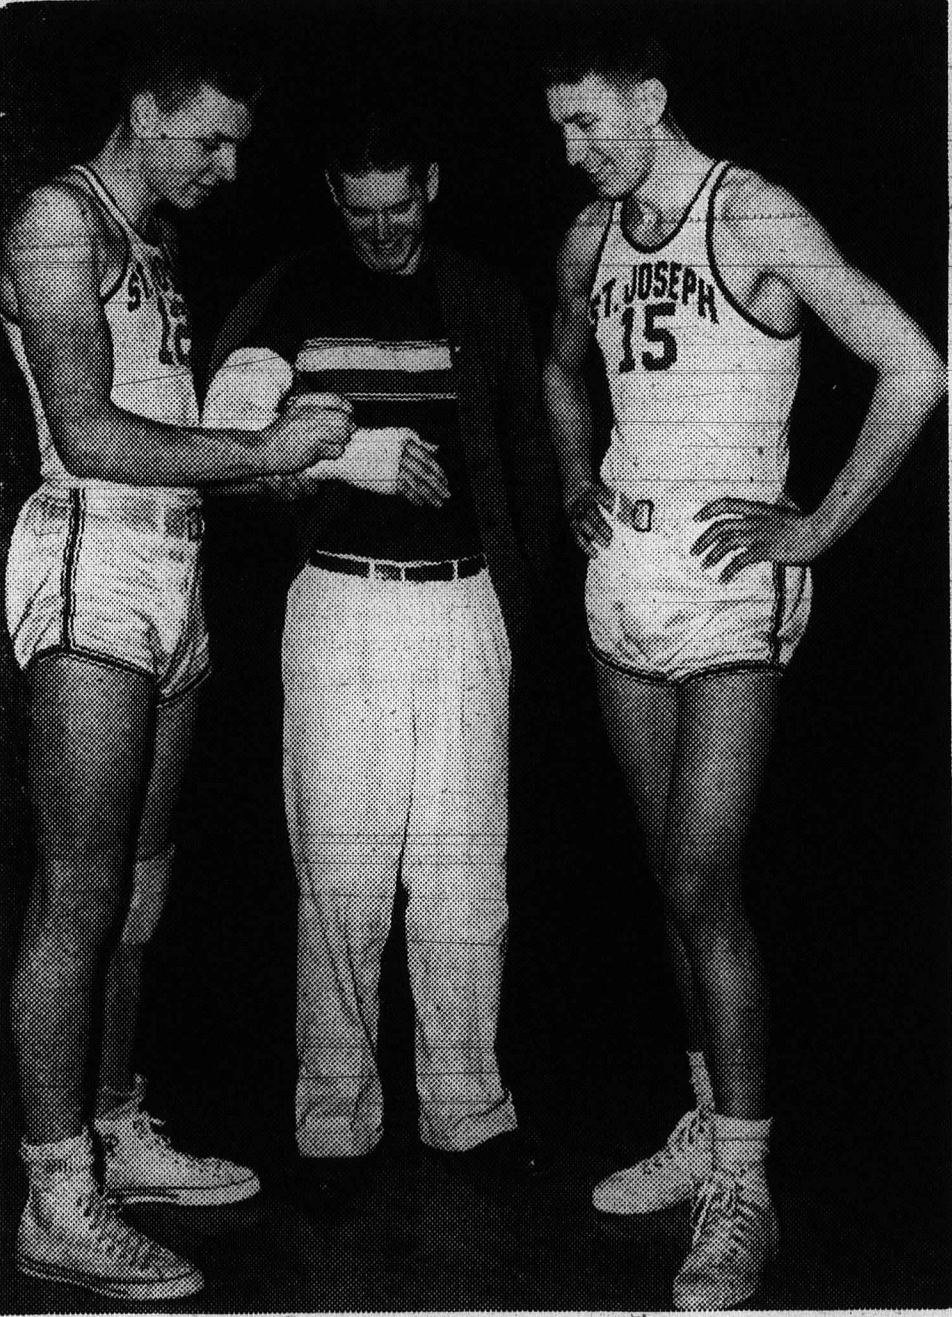

One of St. Mary-of-the-Woods' finest is the accomplice of St. Joe's Jack Phillips at the Woods mixer here the 7th. In the background, Elmer Molchan and Bill Fergus glare moodily ahead.

ST. JOE'S LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES

The local area is well represented on the St. Joseph's basketball varsity this season. Sophomore Guard Bill Gehring, North Judson, autographs Senior Guard Boyd Reutebuch's (Winamac) cast, while Senior Forward Bill Elbert, Goodland, waits his turn to sign. Boyd's forearm was fractured in the Pumas' fifth game, which resulted in their first defeat. The speedy spark plug had scored 39 points for a game average of 7.8 and was headed for his best year. Elbert is third in the Puma scoring column having scored 197 points in 16 games. He is invaluable on the bank boards. Gehring, who also excels at rebounding, has made 40 points in 13 games.
